It is important to know that your child is well cared for while you are at work or school. You also want your kids to be ready for school. Paying for child care can be difficult as you look for a job, go to work or go to school. Minnesota's Child Care Assistance Program can help make quality child care affordable for families with low incomes. The program promotes equal access to the child care market, family self-sufficiency and healthy child development.

How does the Child Care Assistance Program work?

- The Child Care Assistance Program can help pay child care costs for children.
- Child care costs may be paid for the time you are working, looking for work, going to school, or participating in activities in your approved Minnesota Family Investment Program or Diversionary Work Program employment plan.
- There is no time limit on how long you may receive child care assistance, as long as you meet the requirements and your income is within the program limits for your family size.
- Your child care must be provided by a legal provider who is at least 18 years old. For more information about selecting a provider, see "How do I choose a child care provider?" on page 4.

It is important to know the rules of the Child Care Assistance Program and ask questions if you don't understand something. If you are eligible for the Child Care Assistance Program, your worker will send you a copy of the "Child Care Assistance Program Family Guide" (edocs.dhs.state.mn.us/lfserver/Public/DHS-3944-ENG).

Your case can be closed if you don't follow program rules.

How much do I pay?

The Child Care Assistance Program may not cover all your child care costs. The program requires you to pay part of your care costs based on your family's income and the number of people in your family. This is called a copayment. Your child care provider may also charge more than the maximum amount that the Child Care Assistance Program can pay. Your provider may require you to pay the difference.

What are the eligibility requirements?

In general, to be eligible for the Child Care Assistance Program, you must:

- File an application and provide all required verifications
- Participate in authorized activities (work, education, job search or activities in an employment plan)
- Have children needing care who meet requirements:
 - Must be 12 years old or younger, or 13 or 14 years old with special needs and meet citizenship and immigration requirements.
- Cooperate with child support
- Meet the program's income limits.

Families experiencing homelessness have three months after they apply to submit verifications and participate in an authorized activity.

Some eligibility requirements vary based on whether your family currently receives cash assistance benefits or has received these benefits in the last year. Participation in a cash assistance program determines your child care assistance sub-program. The sub-programs are:

- Minnesota Family Investment Program and Diversionary Work Program child care
- Transition Year child care
- Basic Sliding Fee child care.

Minnesota Family Investment Program and Diversionary Work Program child care

Minnesota Family Investment Program and Diversionary Work Program are Minnesota's cash assistance programs that help families with low incomes.

Minnesota Family Investment Program child care assistance may help pay for your child care cost for activities included in an employment plan developed with your job counselor. The program may help pay for child care costs while you go to school, work, search for a job or participate in other employment plan activities. If you do not have an employment plan, Minnesota Family Investment Program child care assistance may help pay for child care while you search for a job or if you work at least 20 hours per week.

Transition Year child care

Transition Year child care assistance helps pay child care costs for one year after your Minnesota Family Investment Program/Diversionary Work Program case closes, if:

- Your Minnesota Family Investment Program or Diversionary Work Program case did not close due to fraud

AND

- You received Minnesota Family Investment Program or Diversionary Work Program benefits for at least one of the last six months

AND

- Your income is within program limits.

Transition Year child care assistance can help with child care costs for employment-related activities.

- Work: You are eligible if you work at least 20 hours per week. If you are a full-time student, you may get help with child care costs for employment if you work at least 10 hours per week.
- School or training: Your worker will help you develop an education plan that includes school or training to prepare for work.
- Job search: You may get help with child care costs for a limited time to look for work.

When Transition Year child care assistance ends, you may get help paying for child care from Basic Sliding Fee child care assistance. If there is a waiting list in your area, your name will be added to it. You may get an extension to your Transition Year child care assistance until your name reaches the top of the waiting list.

Basic Sliding Fee child care

Basic Sliding Fee child care assistance may help you pay child care costs if you have not recently received Minnesota Family Investment Program benefits and your income is within program limits. It can help you with child care costs for employment-related activities.

- Work: You are eligible if you work at least 20 hours per week. If you are a full-time student, you may get help with child care costs for employment if you work at least 10 hours per week.
- School or training: Your worker will help you develop an education plan that includes school or training to prepare for work.
- Job search: You may get help with child care costs for a limited time to look for work.

Some areas have a waiting list for Basic Sliding Fee child care assistance. If there is a waiting list in your area, ask your worker to put your name on it. The agency will contact you when your name reaches the top of the list.

How do I apply?

Contact your local human service office to begin the application process. This may be a county, tribal or subcontracted agency. If you are applying for Basic Sliding Fee child care assistance, ask if your county has a waiting list before completing an application. Otherwise, complete an application to see if you qualify for help with your child care costs. Apply online at MNbenefits.mn.gov/, or print and complete the “Minnesota Child Care Assistance Program application” (edocs.dhs.state.mn.us/lfservlet/Public/DHS-3550-ENG), or contact your local child care assistance agency. See pages 12 and 13 for a list of these agencies.

How do I report suspected fraud?

If you believe a person who is not eligible is getting child care assistance, call the Fraud Hotline at 651-431-3968 or 800-627-9977.

What other programs can help pay for child care?

Early Learning Scholarships

Scholarships help families afford high-quality child care and early education programs.

For more information, call 888-291-9811 or visit the Minnesota Department of Education's Early Learning Scholarships page (education.mn.gov/MDE/fam/elsprog/elschol/).

Post-Secondary Child Care Grant Program

The Post-Secondary Child Care Grant Program helps students who do not receive Minnesota Family Investment Program benefits with their child care costs so they can attend public colleges and universities, technical and community colleges, private colleges and some vocational schools. For more information on this program, visit the Office of Higher Education website (ohe.state.mn.us/mPg.cfm?pageID=140) or check with your school's financial aid office.

Dependent Care Assistance Programs

Dependent Care Assistance Programs are accounts set up by an employer that allow employees to contribute money through payroll deductions to pay for child care expenses. The deduction lowers your taxable income.

As a result, you and your employer pay less federal and Social Security taxes. This may save you hundreds of dollars annually.

You determine how much of your annual wage should be directed to an account each year. That amount is divided by the number of pay periods per year, set aside before taxes and placed into your account. There is a limit to the amount that can be deducted each year. The money deposited in your account is used to reimburse your child care expenses.

Dependent Care Assistance Program accounts interact with Social Security, state and federal tax deductions. You must determine the best option for your situation and income level. It is important to carefully estimate child care expenses when deciding the annual amount to direct to an account. By law, any money not used for reimbursement and left in a Dependent Care Assistance Program account at the end of the year is forfeited.

Child care programs for military families

There are several child care programs available for military families. Some are specific to a branch of service, others are for all branches.

These programs include:

- Military Child Care in Your Neighborhood
- Operation: Military Child Care
- Give Army Parents a Break.

These programs are administered by Child Care Aware of America. For more information about any of these child care programs:

- Call the Child Care Aware hotline at 800-424-2246, or
- Visit the Fee Assistance/Respite page (childcareaware.org/fee-assistancerespite/) on the Child Care Aware website for help applying for a subsidy.

How do I choose a child care provider?

You can choose a child care provider who you trust to meet the needs of your family and provide a safe place for your child to grow and learn.

- Get to know the different types of child care and early education programs available to you, including centers and preschools, family child care, Head Start, school-age care, and friends and neighbors.

- Consider any special needs your child may have when selecting a child care provider. Your child care provider may receive a higher rate if they provide additional services to your child with special needs.
- Choose up to one primary and one secondary provider per child in your family. The Child Care Assistance Program will limit the amount of care paid to a secondary provider. You can choose a different primary and secondary provider for each child.

Parent Toolkit: A Guide to Finding the Right Place for Your Child

“Finding Child Care: A Guide for Families” (parentaware.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/08/PA-Child-Care-Guide-English-LINKS_V-6.pdf) offers steps for choosing care, questions to ask programs and things to look for as you visit child care programs. It also has additional information about child care and links to useful resources.

How can I get help finding child care?

Information and help with choosing child care is available on ParentAware.org or by calling 888-291-9811. Available information includes:

- Help finding a child care provider
- Options for parenting education
- Information about scholarships, fee subsidies and tax credit eligibility (parentaware.org/learn/paying-for-care-and-education/).

Why should I choose a high-quality provider?

Child care providers who meet certain quality standards are considered high quality. These providers have demonstrated a commitment to professional development and providing care that is safe and supports children’s development and school readiness.

The Child Care Assistance Program pays high-quality providers higher maximum rates, and, in some cases, children authorized at high-quality providers can be authorized for more child care hours. This could lower the payments you make to the provider. Talk to your child care provider and worker to find out if your child care provider is eligible for a higher rate or a weekly authorization.

How do I know if a provider is high quality?

Asking the right questions will help you choose the best child care for your family. Parent Aware provides suggested questions to ask when you are looking for child care, and shows the Star Ratings for providers. You can call Parent Aware at 888-291-9811 or search for child care providers online at ParentAware.org.

Some things to look for include:

- Participation in Parent Aware, Minnesota’s Quality Rating and Improvement System
- Experience caring for young children and getting them ready for school
- Programs that meet accreditation standards
- Ability to respond to your child’s individualized needs, including any special needs
- Clean, safe buildings and play areas
- Child development training and education
- Emergency plan and process for contacting you
- Few numbers of children per adult
- Programs that carry liability insurance
- Licensed programs in compliance with state licensing standards.

Parent Aware Ratings

Families use Parent Aware Star Ratings to find programs using research-based best practices that prepare children for school and life.

When a program participates in the Parent Aware Star Rating process, they are letting their stars shine. They volunteer for extra training and professional development to go above and beyond basic health and safety licensing requirements.

Participating programs can earn a One-, Two-, Three-, or Four-Star Rating. Parent Aware Ratings are based on demonstrated use of research-based practices that prepare children for school and life. Each Rating level builds on the previous one, helping families easily identify which practices the program is using.

Visit ParentAware.org, or call 888-291-9811 for more information on child care and Parent Aware Star Ratings.

How do I know if my provider is safe?

You can look up information about a program's licensing compliance by selecting the View Record option in the licensing box of the provider's ParentAware.org record, or by visiting the Licensing Information Lookup website \(licensinglookup.dhs.state.mn.us/\). This website tells you if the program is licensed or certified and provides information about recent monitoring visits for health and safety standards. You may also ask if complaints have been made about a provider (see "What if I have a problem with my child care provider?" on page 6). Parents are encouraged to check the history of providers before selecting one.

Can I see my child during the day?

Child care providers must let you see your children at any time. The Child Care Assistance Program will not pay providers who do not allow you total access to your children.

What are licensed and unlicensed child care providers?

Child care providers are required to be licensed unless they fall under an allowable exemption. The purpose of licensing is to help protect the health and safety of your children. Licensing rules are minimum standards, such as the number of adults who must be present to work with groups of children, caregiver training requirements and background studies. Licensed programs must display their license at all times and licensed programs receive annual monitoring visits.

There are several kinds of licensed child care providers:

- Family child care programs, which are often provided in a provider's home
- Child care centers
- Nursery school and preschool programs, which do not provide full-time care

A licensed program does not guarantee quality. Carefully check all programs, licensed or not, to make sure you are comfortable with the quality of care.

Some child care providers are exempt from licensure by state law. Unlicensed child care providers who register with the Child Care Assistance Program agency and meet certain requirements may be authorized for payment. Unlicensed providers must pass background studies and take training such as first aid and CPR.

There are several kinds of unlicensed child care providers.

- Family, friends or neighbors who care for children in their home: Care can be provided for related children and one family of unrelated children. When these providers are registered with the Child Care Assistance Program, they are called legal nonlicensed providers.
- In-home providers, who care for your children in your home for Child Care Assistance Program payments: Note that care in a child's home must be approved by the Minnesota Department of Human Services before payments can be made.
- Centers that are exempt from licensing: This includes preschool and school-age care programs operated by schools, short-term programs like summer camp, and others. These providers must go through a certification process to receive payments from the Child Care Assistance Program.

What if I have a problem with my child care provider?

If you believe that a provider is caring for children in a way that is not healthy or safe, you may file a complaint. You may also ask if complaints have been made by anyone else about a provider. Parents are encouraged to thoroughly check the provider's history before selecting one. Complaints are handled by different agencies depending on the type of care.

- Licensed or certified license-exempt centers: Contact the Minnesota Department of Human Services at 651-431-6500.
- Licensed family care: Contact your county or tribal licenser or local child care licensing office.
- Registered legal nonlicensed providers: Contact your local Child Care Assistance Program agency.

What other early learning opportunities are available?

Early Childhood Screening

Early Childhood Screening, provided by your local school district, is a quick and simple check of how your 3, 4 or 5 year old is growing, learning and developing. Screenings are free and can help detect possible health or learning problems so that children can get the help they need before starting kindergarten. An Early Childhood Screening, or a similar health and developmental screening, is required for your child to enter kindergarten in Minnesota public schools. For more information about Early Childhood Screenings or to schedule an appointment, contact your local school district or call the Minnesota Department of Education at 651-582-8412 or search the department's online directory (public.education.mn.gov/ELSSearch/search.do).

Voluntary Prekindergarten and School Readiness Plus

Voluntary prekindergarten and School Readiness Plus are publicly-funded school programs established for eligible 4-year-old children to prepare them for success as they enter kindergarten the following year. The funding allows districts and charter schools with recognized early learning programs, or a combination thereof, to incorporate a voluntary prekindergarten or School Readiness Plus program into their E-12 system. A list of districts and charter schools with programs is available on the Minnesota Department of Education website at (education.mn.gov/MDE/fam/elsprog/vpk/) or email mde.vpk@state.mn.us for more information.

School Readiness

School Readiness is a public school program for children ages 3 to kindergarten age. This program provides early childhood education to help prepare children for kindergarten entry. Contact your local school district for more information about prekindergarten programs in your community or call the Minnesota Department of Education at 651-582-8412 or visit education.state.mn.us/MDE/dse/early/read/.

Early Childhood Family Education

Early Childhood Family Education is a program for Minnesota parents, expectant parents and relatives with children from birth to kindergarten age. Your local school district provides parenting programming and services to support children's learning and development through this program, taught by licensed early childhood and parent educators. Contact your local school district for more information about Early Childhood Family Education, or search the Minnesota Department of Education's online directory (public.education.mn.gov/ELSSearch/search.do).

Early Head Start (prenatal to age 3) and Head Start (3 to 5-year-olds)

Early Head Start and Head Start and their child care partners serve young children from families with low income. Programs may be based in centers, schools, or family child care homes. These programs have comprehensive services that support health and development of children from prenatal to age 5. In addition, programs provide early childhood classes and social services. Program services are responsive to each child and family ethnic, cultural, and linguistic heritage. Early Head Start and Head Start encourages the role of parents as their child's first and most important teachers. Programs build relationships with families that support positive parent-child relationships, family well-being, and connections to peers and community. Visit eclkc.ohs.acf.hhs.gov/ for more information.

Early Childhood Special Education

Early Childhood Special Education services are provided at no cost to eligible infants, toddlers and preschool children who have delays in development or an identified disability. Eligibility is determined through an evaluation process conducted by a child's local school district. Services are provided to address identified child needs and parental concerns.

Visit the Help Me Grow website \(helpmegrowmn.org/HMG/GetHelpChild/AfterReferral/index.html\) to learn more about Early Childhood Special Education services for infants and toddlers and for preschool children with developmental concerns.

Help Me Grow

Help Me Grow is a referral portal that connects infants, toddlers, and preschoolers with developmental concerns to their local school district's early intervention or preschool special education program. The school district's response may include a screening or evaluation to determine eligibility for support services at no cost, regardless of income level or family immigration status. If you have questions about your child's development, or if you think your child might need extra help to learn, visit helpmegrowmn.org/HMG/index.html or call 866-693-4769.

How can I help my child with special needs in child care?

Special needs rates

Children with special needs may be eligible for higher reimbursement rates from the Child Care Assistance Program if providers make accommodations to meet their needs in care. Talk to your worker and child care provider about requesting a special needs rate.

Center for Inclusive Child Care (CICC)

The Center for Inclusive Child Care is a resource network supporting quality inclusive care for young children and their caregivers. They provide coaching to early educators to successfully include children with developmental concerns, diagnosed special needs, and challenging behaviors and prevent expulsion. They also work to implement health and safety best practices and improve the quality of care for infants and toddlers.

Contact the Center for Inclusive Child Care by calling 651-641-8339 or visit their website at inclusivechildcare.org/.

How else can I keep my child safe and healthy?

Child and Teen Checkups (C&TC)

Child and Teen Checkups is Minnesota's Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment Program (health.state.mn.us/people/childrenyouth/ctc/families.html). It covers children from birth through age 20 who are enrolled in Medical Assistance or MinnesotaCare. A visit often meets the health checkup requirements for school, Head Start, the WIC Program, child care, camps, and sports participation physicals. For more information, contact your county human services, public health, or tribal health agency (mn.gov/dhs/counties-and-tribes/).

Need help finding a doctor or dentist, making an appointment, finding transportation or finding an interpreter?

- Call your county human services, public health or tribal health agency and ask for a Child and Teen Checkup staff member.
- Call your health plan member services phone number on the back of your member card if you receive health care through a health plan.

Call 800-657-3672 toll-free or 651-297-3862 in the Twin Cities for transportation under MinnesotaCare.

Family Home Visiting

The Family Home Visiting program fosters healthy beginnings, working to improve outcomes including school readiness, preventing child abuse and neglect, and supporting parents in their role as a child's first teacher. Families receive information on infant care, child growth and development, parenting approaches, disease prevention and support services available in their community.

Contact your local public health agency for more information about home visiting in your community. Find a local health department or community health board at health.state.mn.us.

Immunizations

By law, licensed child care providers and programs that care for children in school require that your child's shots are current, unless you meet an exemption. All child care providers must keep immunization records for each child in their care. A child care provider can refuse to admit your child if they have not received verification of the required shots for diphtheria, polio, measles, mumps, hepatitis and other diseases that can cause serious illness or, in some cases, death.

For information on how and where to get free or low-cost shots, call the Minnesota Immunization Hotline at 800-657-3970.

Learn the Signs and act early

Parents and child care providers are encouraged to use the tools and resources developed by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as part of its "Learn the Signs – Act Early" campaign. These resources aim to improve early identification of children with autism and other developmental disabilities so that children and families can get the services and support they need. Visit the Centers for Disease Control's website at cdc.gov to learn more.

What other financial assistance is available to families?

Cash assistance

Minnesota has two cash assistance programs that support families as they move toward economic stability through work.

When families first apply for cash assistance, they usually start with the Diversionary Work Program (commonly known as “DWP”). This four-month program helps parents, who are able to do so, quickly find work. Parents get help paying rent, utilities or other housing costs. They may receive an allowance for personal needs.

The Minnesota Family Investment Program (commonly known as “MFIP”) helps families with children meet their basic needs as they move toward financial stability through work. Most families have a lifetime limit of 60 months on the program.

Families participating in the Diversionary Work Program and the Minnesota Family Investment Program also get help with food, child care and health care as long as they continue to meet program requirements.

Families on these programs are not subject to a waiting list for child care assistance.

For more information about the Minnesota Family Investment Program, contact your county or tribal human services agency, or visit the Minnesota Department of Human Services MFIP webpage (mn.gov/dhs/people-we-serve/children-and-families/economic-assistance/income/programs-and-services/mfip.jsp)

You can apply for both programs in two ways:

- Online at MNbenefits.mn.gov
- On paper by using the “Combined Application Form” (edocs.dhs.state.mn.us/lfserver/Public/DHS-5223-ENG)

Energy Assistance Program

The Low Income Energy Assistance Program helps families pay home heating costs and furnace repairs. Grants are available for renters or homeowners.

Call 800-657-3710 to have your local provider send an application, or visit the Minnesota Department of Commerce website at mn.gov/commerce.

Women, Infants, and Children Program

The Special Supplemental Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) is a nutrition and breastfeeding program to help pregnant women, new mothers, infants and young children eat well, learn about nutrition, and stay healthy. Benefits include nutrition information, healthy food purchases using a WIC Card, and other health or community program referrals. Visit health.state.mn.us/people/wic/index.html to find a WIC clinic near you or call 800-942-4030.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (commonly known as “SNAP”) helps Minnesotans with low incomes get the food they need for nutritious and well-balanced meals. Approved participants receive a debit card to buy food at many stores and farmers markets as well as plants and seeds to grow their own food.

For more information, contact your county or tribal human services agency, or visit the Minnesota Department of Human Services SNAP website at mn.gov/dhs/people-we-serve/children-and-families/economic-assistance/food-nutrition/.

To apply online, visit MNbenefits.mn.gov/.

Child and Adult Care Food Program

The Child and Adult Care Food Program pays for meals and snacks served to children in child care or early learning programs. It helps child care programs serve well-balanced, nutritious meals to build good eating habits. Ask your child care program if they participate.

What tax credits are available?

State and federal income tax credits

Who is eligible for income tax credits?

Families that file Minnesota and federal tax returns are eligible for income tax credits. Even families that don't pay any taxes may qualify, but they must file tax returns.

What credits are available on my income taxes?

Several state and federal programs reduce the amount of taxes that families with young children pay:

- Federal Earned Income Tax Credit (IRS)
- Federal Child and Dependent Care Tax Credit (IRS)
- Federal Child Tax Credit (IRS)
- Minnesota Dependent Care Tax Credit (Minnesota Department of Revenue)
- Minnesota Working Family Credit (Minnesota Department of Revenue)

How do I get income tax credits?

Families apply for tax credits on their annual Minnesota and federal tax returns. The credits reduce the amount of tax owed or increase the amount of a refund, depending on the family's situation.

Renters and homeowners refunds

Minnesota renters and homeowners' property tax refunds provide tax relief to homeowners and renters whose property tax or rent is relatively high compared to their household income.

For more information on state refunds, and to see if you qualify, call 651-296-4444 or visit revenue.state.mn.us.

Tax filing help

Between Feb. 1 and April 15, trained volunteers are available at sites around Minnesota to help families with their tax preparation. For more information and to see if you qualify for help, call 651-296-3781.
